INNOVATIVE PARTNERSHIPS & COMPETITIVE HOUSING

WITH EMCEE DOUG HOOKER

PART I: INNOVATIVE PUBLIC-PRIVATE COLLABORATIONS

PART II: RETHINKING HOUSING AS A COMPETITIVE EDGE

Metro Atlanta has reached a critical point. With a lot to offer and the investment to show for it, our region still faces its challenges. How can we work together to keep our metro a competitive one and not fall behind the curve? Are there new ways to collaborate towards higher quality development? Is housing becoming more of a competitive advantage than businesses and workplaces? Can our region's housing inventory keep up with the talent new businesses attract? How can we align public and private interests to make sure it can?

We'll discuss all this and more on August 10. See you at #TheINTERSECTION.
